

Our Policies

Official Statements and Interpretations

Because USP text and publications may have legal implications in the U.S. and elsewhere, their language must stand on its own. USP shall not provide an official ex post facto interpretation to one party, thereby placing other parties without that interpretation at a possible disadvantage.

In addition, USP shall not provide an official opinion as to whether a particular article does or does not comply with compendial requirements, except as part of an established USP verification or other conformity assessment program that is conducted separately from, and independent of, USP's standard-setting activities.